Dear Harry,

Letter from Rife today reporting appointment of young Wunicy attorney to represent him in the matter of the confession: John T. Engrham, Illinois State Bank Bldg., 62301. It you write him, please thank him for letting me know, tell him that I've told you, and wish him weal for me. Tell him I'm too bjsy writing and researching to respond now.

Clement Stone seems not to have liked you, from today's WxPost and AP B wire. He gave his story to the competition. Reception from BBM was poor early this a.m., so I made out only a small part of their item. Post credits Sun-Times, AP nothing. The stories conflict on whether he has asked for investigation of use of his $$$.

Without major developments, clips not essential. However, they interest me if you can supply them, of the story that is out and the follow-ups I'd expect.

Today's WxPost attributes a big hunk of the money used to defeat Tydings in 1970 to Stone (and better-known industrial biggies) plus $140,000 from the bottomless Kalmbach. Successful GOP Md. Senator, Beall, is better off, having reported none of this Kalm loot, by Nixon's foresight in appoint Beall's brother as U.S.Attorney for the State.

Arlington House seems not to be chinchy with galleys of Hunt's Bay Pigs book. I got what I suspect is an incomplete xerox of them this week. No chance to examine yet. They seem like too few pages. If you ask them for a set and get them, you may find a story in them. After you finished, I'd like to compare with mine for completeness and copy what might be mkssing. I'll be nibbling away at what I have as soon as I can.

Best,
